911 Re-addressing in Final Stage

By: Mark W. Smith, County Commissioner

Above: Map shows last three regions, 6, 7 and 9, that received new 911 addresses.

Bradford County's 911 re-addressing project is in its final stage of delivery. The remaining regions have received their addresses. We encourage residents in any part of the county to call 570-268-4103 to ask any questions and resolve any issues with their new address.

After renegotiating the contract with the contractor MSAG, LLC, the county moved forward with the 911 re-addressing region by region in 2009. Re-addressing provides 911 dispatchers with more information than the typical caller ID system. The county has delivered the questionnaire to all regions and is in the final stage of the project. 911 Signs at Natural Gas Sites

By: Gary Wilcox, Public Safety Director

Bradford County Emergency Management has been working with natural gas companies to implement consistent signs for 911 response information. 911 addressing signs are being installed at natural gas related well sites around the county. In the event of an emergency, these signs are intended to give people the location information to give to the 911 center. Information on the signs include the township, the GPS coordinates, and the name of the well site. This information allows the 911 dispatcher to cross reference the information with their own data base to get the first responders to the scene as quickly as possible. Major gas companies have been voluntarily purchasing the signs for their well sites and other companies are following their lead. It is the intent of the Emergency Management Agency to get each of the well sites, water impoundment areas, compressor stations, and any natural gas related sites to display these signs.

A Look Back at 2010

The end of the year is a great time to reflect on what has transpired over the last year. A lot has happened over the course of 2010. Here are a few articles from the past year sharing some of the positive things that have been reported on via this monthly e-mail newsletter.

Guaranteed Energy Savings Project Moves Ahead

August 2010

Bradford County moved ahead with a $3 million dollar energy plan. The lighting at the manor, jail and library are almost complete and the project is on schedule with new light fixtures and motion sensors being installed in the courthouse. The first window has been installed at the courthouse and the rest will be replaced early this year. The updates to the heating and cooling system at the courthouse and manor are scheduled to begin in the next couple of weeks. The Northern Tier Solid Waste Authority has begun installing the piping system to a pump house where it will split and go to the manor and jail and we anticipate the boring under Route 6 to take place the week of January 18th. Governor Rendell Visits Bradford County

The governor was in town to sign the Pennsylvania Fiscal Code which included language that the legislature will work towards adopting a natural gas severance tax by October of 2010. The governor pointed out that the reason he chose Bradford County for this presentation was the fact that Bradford County has seen the most drilling in the state of Pennsylvania. Commissioner Smith stressed "the importance of a large share of the severance tax needing to remain locally because it is here, in these counties and local communities, that the developments are unfolding. These are the places where the environmental impacts are occurring; these are the boroughs and townships that are dealing with the high volume of traffic; these are the places where volunteer firefighters and responders are struggling to keep up with the demands on their time and equipment; and these are the counties that are dealing with rising administrative burdens."

October 2010

The building at 200 Main Street, Towanda (formerly Valley Woodworks) has been transformed from bare walls to beautiful new office space with tiled floors and carpeting. The renovations on the first floor of the new building are complete and Magisterial District Judge Clark opened for business at the new location in October 2010. The renovations on the second and third floors are progressing rapidly with the new offices for Penn State Cooperative Extension, Veterans Administration, and Bradford Wyoming Literacy Program, being ready to open by spring of 2011.

County Parks Master Planning Complete

October 2010

Bradford County Commissioners signed Resolution 2010-09 finalizing the Bradford County Parks Master Plan. The county will now move forward with the process of developing these plans and implementing them in each of the county parks. Ann Yost from YSM, consultants on this project, noted, "that the three county parks natural resources and settings are a most valuable asset." Loren Hotaling from the Office of Planning and Grants is currently working on signage for all the parks and the Parks Committee is working on getting an engineering firm to complete a water supply for Mt. Pisgah County Park.

County Inmate Program Gives Back to Communities

May 2010

The Community Workforce Inmate Program (C.W.I.P.) became available to community groups, charitable organizations, and local governments. The program provides labor to community groups and local governments via approved work release inmates from the Bradford County Correctional Facility. Projects that workforce inmates have been involved with include; painting, graffiti removal, various public works projects, special events, maintenance, or general public property clean-up. Bradford County inmates completed 9 jobs in 9 weeks with 992 hours of inmate labor. Communities served by the inmates include Ridgebury, Towanda, Rome, Wyalusing, and South Waverly.

1st Annual Natural Gas Expo Held at Alparon Park in Troy

July 2010

On June 25th and 26th Troy, Pennsylvania hosted the first ever Natural Gas Expo held in Bradford County. The event attracted businesses from all over the country. Over 250 exhibitors made their way to Troy for both a net-working dinner on Friday night and the main expo event held on Saturday. Exhibitors came from places such as Mississippi, Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Ohio, New York, Maryland, Colorado and Wyoming.

The event was planned by partners from both private and public entities. This was a great event for our area and the gas related businesses. We look forward to hosting the expo again in 2011.

Casey Hall Crowned 2010 State Fair Queen
